WOOD

The Voodoo hollowbody combines last century's artistic tradition with 21st century technology. This particular model was specially ordered for the permanent collection of the Montreal Guitar Show, featuring a stunning cocobolo top and a back and neck made of Brazilian mahogany. Lauzon mini-humbuckers and a 25" scale length give this guitar plenty of snap; Sperzel Trim-Lock tuners and a Bigsby vibrato round out the package. If you're looking for a guitar that can float effortlessly between rock and jazz, the Voodoo starts at $4250.
